Fiber To The Home (FTTH)

What is FTTH? Fiber to The Home

FTTH is a new technology that uses fiber optic cable instead of copper cable to deliver telephone, data (Internet) and video services. Fiber optic cables have the capacity for an indefinite amount of data, which is becoming a necessity in today's world.

FTTH will allow you to receive voice, video and data all on one fiber optic cable.

How Will FTTH benefit you?

With NCC upgrading your area to FTTH you will be able to receive quality voice (telephone), data (Internet) and video (television) services to your home.

Will there be additional construction on my property?

Yes, the additional work on the property will include: installation of fiber from the road to the side of your home, splicing fiber, and cutover to the electronics that will include voice, data and video services.

How will this change the way my present services work?

FTTH will allow you to enjoy the same television channels that town customers are receiving. Also, you will no longer need a modem to receive high speed Internet.

Pricing for Services From NCC

High Speed Internet:

- Up to 4M download/1M upload—$49.00/mo. ($100 one time connect fee...free installation if at time of initial fiber installation).
 - Up to 5M download/1M upload—$59.00/mo.
 - Up to 6M download/1M upload—$69.00/mo.
- With FTTH you can choose to have up to 2M upload speeds (regularly 1M) for an additional monthly cost. This is particularly helpful if you are gaming on the Internet.
- Wireless router (WiFi)—surf the Internet without actually being hooked up with a cord to the Internet. Numerous computers can be hooked up to one Internet connection in your home. $1.00/mo. ($25 activation fee...free if at time of initial fiber installation).
- A NECA fee is applicable prior to installation. Fee is waived with a one-year agreement.
